THE MOBILE MAYOR

Seat Pleasant's Mayor Eugene W. Grant also known as the "Mobile Mayor" has been busy spreading the vision of expanding the Smart City initiative to leaders throughout the County and Metropolitan Area. A goal of this vision is to bring smart solutions on resources and connectivity to municipalities throughout Prince Georges County. Last month Mayor Grant had the pleasure of attending the 4th and 5th Maryland Congressional District Black History Breakfast with a special thanks to Congressman Steny Hoyer and Anthony Brown. Also in celebration of Black History Month Mayor Grant served as a special guest for the 2019 Black Capitalism Summit. A bipartisan, patriotic event promoting philanthropy for Opportunity Zones and Black Capitalism. Featuring business leaders from all over the country and the US Virgin Islands to share information on Opportunity Zones. The honorable Congressman James Enos Clyburn, South Carolina 6th District spoke on the importance of knowing your history while in attendance of the powerful event orchestrated by James Whitehead.

Celebrating Black History Month with African American Art

February 14, 2019 the city of Seat Pleasant chose to honor this year's Black History Month by sponsoring the event, Honoring African Art. The event gave a number of the cities senior residents a chance to experience the annual celebration of "African American achievements throughout US history" held at The Overdue Recognition Art Gallery. Located in the Bowie Town Center of Bowie, Maryland, The Overdue Recognition Art Gallery proudly represents over 75 renowned and emerging African American Artist. As one of only three African American owned art galleries Overdue Recognition provides a venue for African American Artist to showcase their excellence. Using lectures, workshops and exhibitions the gallery is able to fulfil its goals of educating the community on both art and its African American history.
